Visit www.jeffstateonline.com/programs/banking-and-finance to learn more details on the finance degree program.

Why Should You Choose the Jefferson State Program?

- Jefferson State has a 40+ year history of an accredited Business/Finance Administration degree program. The degree is accredited by SACS (Southern Association of Colleges and Schools) and ACBSP (Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs).
- Attend classes during the day or night, or enroll in Internet courses while working full-time or part-time.
- Earn both a Finance Administration Certificate and a college Business degree with a Finance Administration concentration.
- Many of the courses in the Finance Administration degree program transfer into a four-year college or university Business degree. Many do not. Please ask an advisor for more details.

You'll Learn:

- Applicable banking & finance skills
- Accounting and computer skills
- Specialized knowledge required in the banking profession
- Management functions of planning, organizing, directing and controlling
- Additional knowledge, skills and abilities essential to your success on the job

You'll Earn:

- Skills to enable you to move into supervisory and management positions
- Potential for promotion in your present organization
- College credit and a degree.

You'll Succeed:

- More than half of all new jobs created require education beyond high school.
- Employees with degrees have better chances for promotion.
- Associate degree holders generally earn 30 percent more than high school graduates (according to the U.S. Department of Commerce)
- Many credits from an associate degree can be applied toward a bachelor's degree.
