

The Student Right-to-Know Act Also known as the “Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act” (P.L. 101-542) was passed by Congress November 9, 1990. Title I, Section 103, requires institutions eligible for Title IV funding to calculate completion or graduation rates of certificate- or degree-seeking, full-time students entering that institution, and to disclose these rates to all students and prospective students. These rates must be calculated after three years from initial entry, which is 150% of the time for a two-year degree.

Of the Jefferson State Community College’s Fall 2013 population of 8,551 students enrolled there was an initial cohort of 1052 first time, degree or certificate seeking full-time students. Of this initial cohort (90 students), 9% graduated from Jefferson State Community College in the 150% – 3 year time span and 26% of this initial cohort (269 students) has transferred to another college or university.
